THE SWGRL SPOTLIGHT

Echoes of Ireland
Saturday, October 23, 2010 at 2 p.m.!

Back by popular demand, the popular Irish musical group Celtic Fire returns to the Decatur County—Gilbert H. Gragg Library on Saturday, October 23, 2010 at 2 p.m.!

There’s no blarney in this program of spritely dance tunes and haunting airs performed by professional harpist Nella Rigell and master musician John Maschinot on the Celtic harp, uilleann (Irish) bagpipes, wooden flute, tin whistle and bodhran (hand-drum). The history, culture, and character of the Emerald Isle are communicated through Gaelic words and phrases, charming songs, and exciting percussive footwork performed by champion Irish step-dancer Katie Baughman. Professional harpist Nella Rigell and master musician John Maschinot share their love of the music and lore of Ireland with people of all ages. Irish step dancer, Katie Baughman, will be performing exciting and percussive traditional dances sure to get everyone’s toes tapping. This program is made possible by the Lesley Sevier Simmons Endowment through the Decatur County—Gilbert H. Gragg Library Foundation.

Holiday Closing
Closed on Monday, October 11, 2010 for Columbus Day

The Southwest Georgia Regional Library System will be closed on Monday, October 11, 2010 in honor of Columbus Day. In addition, the library will hold its annual Staff Training Day so that all staff can refresh their skills to better serve you. All library locations will re-open regular business hours on Tuesday, October 12, 2010.

While our physical facilities will be closed, you can still access the library anytime online at www.swgrl.org, where you can find suggested reading materials for all ages, download an application for a library card, search the online card catalog for that book or DVD you have been wanting to check out, and much more!

We look forward to serving you again on Tuesday, October 12, 2010.

25 Books All Young Georgians Should Read

Georgia Center for the Book Releases Inaugural List

The Georgia Center for the Book has released the inaugural list of “25 Books All Young Georgians Should Read”. This list features books written by Georgia authors appropriate for children in Pre-K through 8th grade.

One of these books is Peaches by Jodi Lynn Anderson, which is about three teenaged girls from very different backgrounds who were thrown together to pick peaches in a Georgia orchard during summertime.

For readers in grades 4—8, try The Tree that Owns Itself and Other Adventure Tales from Out of the Past by Loretta Johnson Hammer, which is a collection of short fictional stories from different periods of Georgia history.

A children’s picture book on the list is 14 Cows for America by Carmen Agra Deedy. Maasai tribal members, after hearing the story of the September 11th attacks from a young Massai, who was in New York on that day, decide to present the American people with fourteen sacred cows as a healing gift.

“This list features books written by Georgia authors appropriate for children in Pre-K through 8th grade.”
Teen Read Week: Books with Beat!
Celebrate from October 18—23, 2010 at your library!

Celebrate Teen Read Week from Monday, October 18—Saturday, October 23, 2010 at the Southwest Georgia Regional Library System! This year’s theme is, “Books with Beat”. This theme encourages teens to read a variety of materials, including poetry, audiobooks, and books about music.

The library will host some fun programs in celebration of Teen Read Week. We will be playing Guitar Hero: World Tour on the Nintendo Wii at the Decatur County—Gilbert H. Gragg Library on Monday, October 18, 2010 at 4 p.m. Create your own band by playing Guitar Hero: World Tour on the Wii at the Seminole County Public Library on Tuesday, October 19, 2010 at 4 p.m. If you miss either of those opportunities, join us at the Miller County—James W. Merritt, Jr. Memorial Library on Thursday, October 21, 2010 at 3:30 p.m. to have a rockin’ good time. These programs are designed for ages 10—18.

Parents can celebrate Teen Read Week at home, as well. Parents can set aside time each night for the entire family to read, or parents can share their favorite book with their teen. Another idea is give books or magazine subscriptions to your teen as a gift or reward.

Teen Read Week is held annually during the third week of October. For more information, please visit www.ala.org/teenread.
